

Charlotte • Raleigh • Wilmington • Columbia

Press Release

For more information contact:
Vanessa Suggs Wallace
(704) 319-5456
vwallace@hedrickgardner.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

(Charlotte, NC) – Hedrick Gardner Kincheloe & Garofalo, L.L.P. has been selected by the Mecklenburg County Bar Association to receive the 2007 Mecklenburg County Large Firm Pro Bono Award for its volunteerism with The Council for Children’s Rights. The annual award recognizes the extraordinary efforts by Mecklenburg County lawyers who have contributed a significant amount of time and energy toward pro bono work over the past year.

The Hedrick Gardner attorneys who volunteered with The Council for Children’s Rights are: Samuel E. Barker, Jeffrey A. Kadis, David L. Levy, Shannon P. Metcalf, Sarah Anne M. Reamer, Gerald A. Stein, and Jeremy A. Stephenson.

The award will be presented at the annual Mecklenburg County Bar luncheon on Thursday, May 22, 2008 at 12:00 p.m.

Since 1956, Hedrick Gardner Kincheloe & Garofalo, L.L.P. has built a strong tradition of representing business and industry with our comprehensive litigation services. With offices in Charlotte, Raleigh, and Wilmington, North Carolina; and Columbia, South Carolina, Hedrick Gardner is one of the largest litigation and dispute management firms specializing in civil, commercial litigation; construction and real estate litigation; corporate and business law; employment and environmental law; insurance law; medical and professional malpractice; motor vehicle negligence; occupational disease; premises and product liability; trucking and transportation; and workers’ compensation defense.

###