She practices primarily in the Workers' Compensation area, defending employers and their insurers before the North Carolina Industrial Commission and the North Carolina Court of Appeals. She also has experience defending employers in Retaliatory Employment Discrimination Act claims and claims filed with the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

"I have always been interested in the law, and many of my friends have told me they felt I was destined to become a lawyer," she says. "I enjoy a good argument."

Becca graduated Phi Beta Kappa from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill with a Bachelor of Arts degree in English. She earned her Juris Doctor degree from the Norman Adrian Wiggins School of Law at Campbell University. As a volunteer with the Council for Children's Rights, Becca represents children involved in high conflict custody cases.

She is an active member of the North Carolina Association of Defense Attorneys, the North Carolina State Bar, North Carolina Bar Association, Mecklenburg County Bar Association and Defense Research Institute.

Becca was born and raised in Charlotte after her parents moved to North Carolina from New York to raise a family. She and her husband are raising their own family in Charlotte and are parents to two energetic boys.

The entire family loves participating and investing in Charlotte's vibrant community by supporting local food, shops, and breweries. They also enjoy trips to visit family in Asheville and hanging out at the beach.
